Comfortable door door Tokyo Tourism

Tokyo Sightseeing Taxi is a kind of taxi that will pick you up and drop you off where you want while touring Tokyo's famous sights with guided explanation from the driver. All drivers have been certified with achieving a level of knowledge at or above our standard to become a Tokyo Sightseeing Taxi Driver, or TSTiE (Tokyo Sightseeing Taxi in English) for those that have passed an English sightseeing test given by Tokyo, that allows them to provide a higher quality of service. Get to your next destination with peace of mind and enjoy seeing all there is in Tokyo.

Check this out!  reasons to use Tokyo Sightseeing Taxis

Point 1 Freedom to customize your course and make sudden changes

- Change the times and locations to what you want to see
- It is possible to make adjustments on the day based on weather or request centered on the places you want to see

Point 2 Private charter with small groups

- Private space is provided in a way you can't get in a larger group tour
- There is a wide variety of vehicles you can choose from, from 4 to 9 people
- Perfect for shared use with friends and family

Point 3 Visit famous tourist locations while moving in comfort

- Store luggage in the car and move around the location with less baggage
- Efficient transportation in highly maneuverable taxis

Point 4 Drivers that are also tour guides

- Knowledgeable drivers give easily understood explanation
- Drivers can give advice about courses and places to dine based on your time

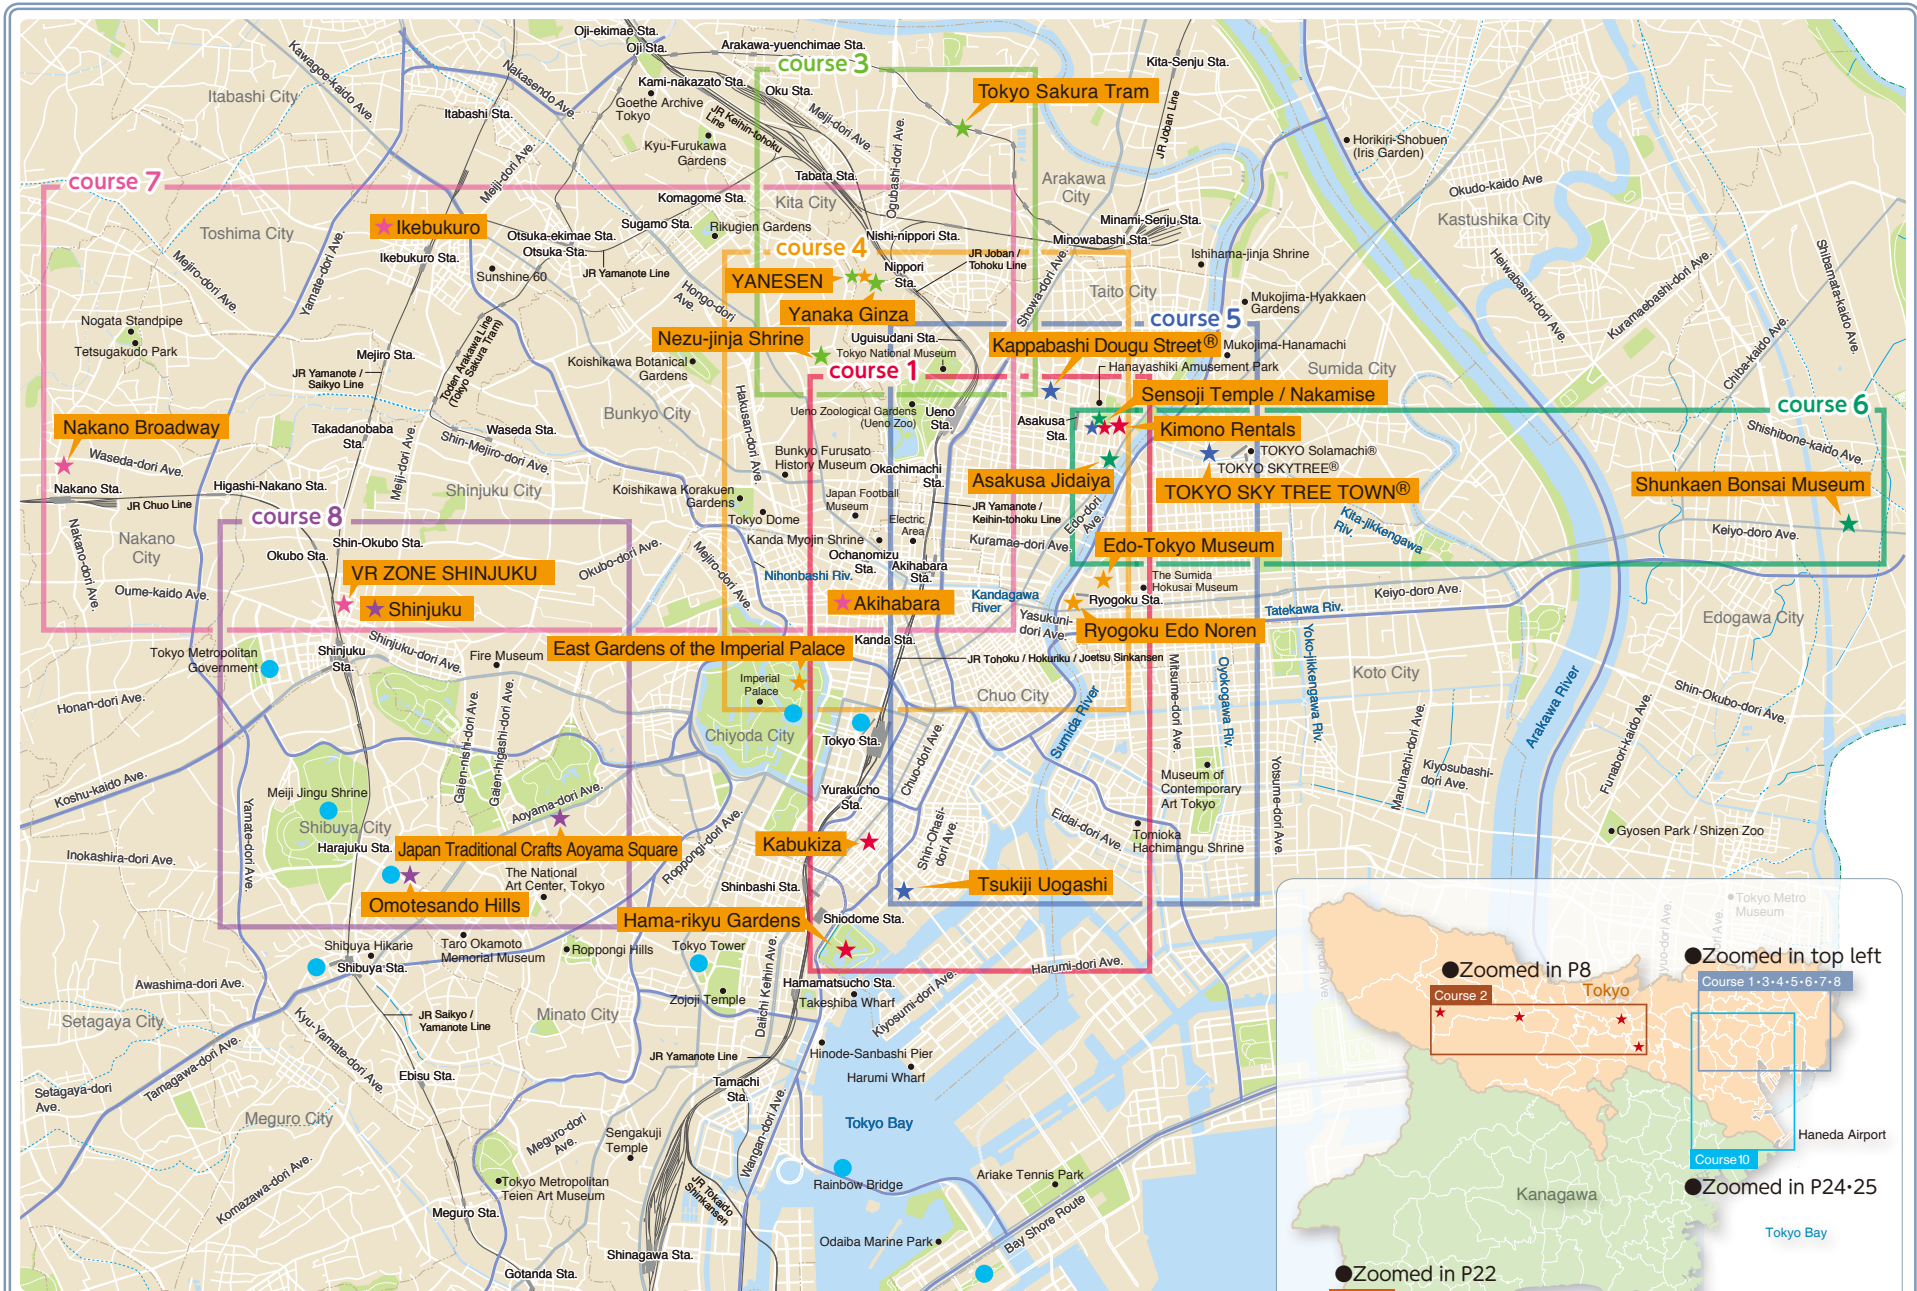

Notes about using the Tokyo Sightseeing Taxi

- ① Reservation is required. Please contact the taxi company of your choice.
- ② If the starting place or destination is within the 23 Wards or Tama Area, the customer can customize the time, locations and sights freely.
- ③ The fees will vary based on the time and taxi company. They will also depend on the starting place, locations visited, the traffic conditions that day, whether a TSTiE driver was requested and other factors. Please confirm with the taxi company.
- ④ Time spent shopping and eating will also count towards service charges.
- ⑤ Parking fees, admission tickets (including the driver's admission), expressway tolls, customer meals and other expenses shall be covered by the customer.
- ⑥ The driver will accompany you to give a guided tour. Please note some venues do not allow this.
- ⑦ Some facilities require the customer to make a reservation in advance. Please confirm your approximate reservation time with the taxi company.
- ⑧ Some drivers are able to communicate in English. Confirm on the taxi company introduction website (English) given on page 27.

.....Using this booklet.....

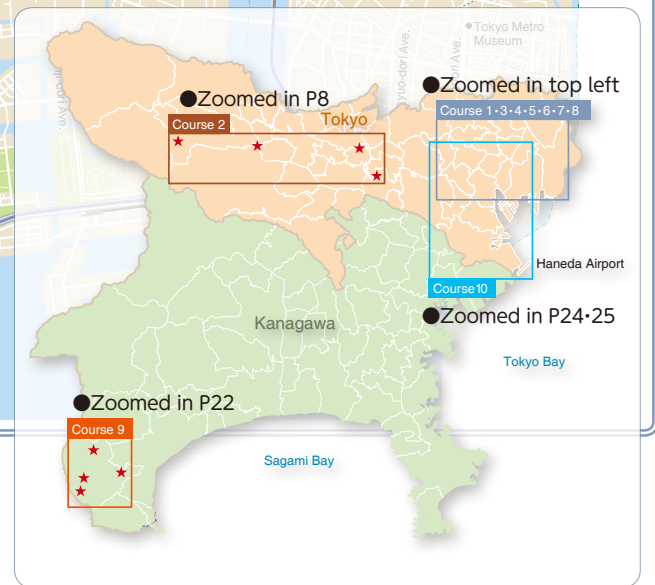

1. The ten courses given in this booklet are sample courses for Tokyo Sightseeing Taxis.
2. Some taxi companies may not operate according to these model courses.
3. The times and service charges for the model courses are approximations based on use of a 4-passenger sedan-type taxi with guidance in Japanese.
4. The "VOICE" notes on the model courses are responses received from participants in a sightseeing taxi monitored tour survey performed in 2016.
5. The courses assume the lodgings that serve as the start and end point are found within the urban center such as Chiyoda, Chuo, Minato, Shinjuku, Taito or Shibuya.
6. Information about facilities are current as of March 2018.

Kimono Rentals

There are many kimono rental shops in Asakusa with a wealth of high quality kimono suitable to the weather. Choose your favorite color and pattern and try it on. Wear the kimono and visit famous locations in traditional Japanese style. When wearing a kimono it is convenient to get around by taxi and your driver can help you take commemorative pictures at the perfect spot.

Hama-rikyu Gardens

Established in 1704 as a secondary residence for Tokugawa Ieyasu, these gardens have undergone several phases of renovations completing their transformation around 230 years ago to close to their present form. One of the most famous Edo period gardens, there is a seawater pond and two duck ponds. The multiple teahouses that were present have been remade and one can enjoy matcha tea at Nakajima-no-ochaya.

Change into a kimono and visit gardens and temples left from the Edo period. Includes a kabuki viewing, one of Japan's unique traditional performing arts. You can try the sado tea ceremony to savor rich tea and wagashi sweets as well as do some shopping while you enjoy the culture of Edo.

It was my first time to try on a kimono and I was able to wear it as I visited many sightseeing spots. It was really convenient to get around using a taxi when wearing a kimono. I experienced Japanese culture like kabuki theater and Nakamise. Having the explanation from the taxi driver helped me understand it all better.

Akigawa Valley

Akigawa Valley is an area touched by the atmosphere of undeveloped mountain woodlands. Part of the nearest national park to the Metropolitan area, Chichibu-Tama-Kai National Park, the Akigawa Valley offers rugged views of rocky cliffs and valleys complemented by the gentle flow of the Akigawa river. There are natural hot springs with high alkalinity famed for skin beauty and the bountiful nature of Tama revealed in the changing of the four seasons. Let your cares be washed away as you listen to the bubbling sounds of the river.

This is one of only two tramways remaining in Tokyo's urban center. The single car makes about 30 stops in the course of one hour with most stations unattended. From the windows you can get a glance of retro atmosphere and the old-fashioned lifestyles of shitamachi. To take an urban hike along the Toden line, we recommend getting an all day Toden pass, available for adults at a mere 400 yen with full access to the train all day. Note that you board from the front and get off at the back. Since most stations are unattended, the driver will manage people getting on and off. Tickets can be purchased on board. Nezu-jinja Shrine

An ancient shrine founded 1900 years ago by Yamato Takeru (also known as Prince Osu) according to Japanese legends, Nezu-jinja Shrine is one of the Tokyo Ten Shrines. The premises include a Prayer Pine-tree famous for couples, an Otome-Inari Shrine, a Japanese thousand-torii gate pathway and romon tower gate. Located directly north of Edo palace, it is a place of extreme fortune having miraculously escaped damage in natural disasters and fire bombing and retains a distinctive Edo style. All Edo-period structures that remain today are considered to represent miracles and this shrine is designated as an important national cultural property.

1 Tokyo Metropolitan Government

The Metropolitan Government complex was designed by renowned Japanese architect, Kenzo Tange, and is a Tokyo landmark. It is surrounded by many other high-rise tower buildings.

2 Meiji Jingu Shrine

This shrine was built in 1920 and is dedicated to Emperor Meiji and Empress Dowager Shoken. Forget that you are in the middle of the city among the hand-made shrines.

3 Omotesando

This pilgrimage trail leads to the front of Meiji Shrine. Known as a shopping district, there are many famous domestic and international brand goods and refined product shops.

4 Shibuya Scramble Intersection

The intersection in front of Shibuya Station is crossed by up to 500,000 people every day. Each time the lights turn green, 3,000 people make way for each other as they pass. This sight has gathered attention from around the world.

5 Kokyo Nijubashi

This doubled bridge crossing the moat connects from the square in front of Edo Castle, the old imperial residence, and passes the front gate to the palace. Normally unused, it is used for New Years visits to the palace or when holding official events at the palace such as imperial visits by foreign dignitaries.

6 Tokyo Station and Marunouchi Station Square

The Tokyo Station Marunouchi Station Building is a designated important cultural property. In 2012 the building was restored to the 1914 appearance. The square in front of Marunouchi Station was created with the restoration of the station building and opened in December 2017.

7 Tokyo Tower

Opened in 1958 and celebrating 60 years in 2018, this 333 m tower is a symbol of Tokyo. The main deck at 150 m and top deck at 250 m offer panoramic views of Tokyo.

8 Rainbow Bridge

This suspension bridge spans 798 m joining the city center with the Rinkai Fukutoshin area and was opened in 1993. The lower deck has a walking path for those that want to walk across. Tokyo Bay and the buildings of the metropolis can be viewed from the top and are a symbol of Tokyo.

9 Odaiba

This area was originally a defensive installation for Edo-Tokyo in the Edo-period. It has been redeveloped as the Tokyo Rinkai Fukutoshin, with marine bus stops, entertainment, gourmet, shopping and much more to enjoy.
